Environmental Health is Pleased to Present Their New Decal for Permitted Vending Vehicles

A new decal for permitted vending vehicles, also known as mobile food facilities (MFF's) has just been designed. The new decal distribution will take place immediately. Vehicles that will be displaying this new decal are ice cream trucks, catering trucks, produce trucks, ice cream push carts, hot dog carts and other such MFF's.

The decal will follow the DMV color and month expiration scheme. For the year 2010, the decal is bright yellow, with the month abbreviated on the top left hand corner. The year is noted below along with the serial number. The San Bernardino County logo is on the right hand top corner with a space below for the vehicle license number to be written down by the inspector. The decal color for 2011 will be red with the same design.

Only MFF's that have a valid health permit and have been inspected will receive this decal. Keep this in mind when purchasing your favorite food items from a mobile food facility to ensure that it has the "San Bernardino County seal of approval". As always, Bon Appetite!
